

Patent Lawyers Richmond

Patent Lawyers Richmond - Our teams of Intellectual Property legal professionals are known for its excellence and innovation in the numerous services related to commercialization, enforcement and acquisition of intellectual property assets.

Over ninety experts make up our team, with extensive experience in the three service lines: Litigation, Business and Prosecution. Our intellectual property practice is ranked among the very best within the country. Our intellectual property team has knowledge in the areas of patents, designs, trade-marks, trade secrets and copyrights. Our litigators are among the very best within the planet.

Our teams knowledge extends into the areas of audits, due diligence, portfolio analysis as well as various associated services that are part of financing and corporate transactions. We are professionals in the assessment of technology for intellectual property protection, including methods for portfolio development involving procurement of rights, commercialization and licensing methods, and defensive and offensive litigation.

Also in our practice, along with our intellectual property lawyers, we have patent and trade-mark agents, and technical consultants. Our professionals have strong backgrounds in the engineering and scientific sectors. In science the team has expertise in biotechnology, biomechanics, biochemistry, endocrinology, food science, chemistry, immunology, life sciences, genetics, molecular/cellular biology, pharmacology, microbiology, neuropsychology, physiology, physiology, organic chemistry, toxicology and neurophysiology. In engineering disciplines, team members excel in the subsequent areas: biomedical, chemical, aerospace, civil, computer science, industrial, mechanical, material science, metallurgy and electrical.