Richmond Personal Injury Lawyer - Medical Malpractice

You can be entitled to compensation, if you have been hurt as a result of a medical error. Mistakes that are made by health practitioners, medical doctors, and nurses may cause injury. These injuries could entitle you to some form of compensation for "general damages," otherwise known as pain and suffering. If you go through loss of income and ability to earn income due to your injuries, you may be entitled to compensation. Different kinds of compensation include home maintenance and housekeeping expenses, and health care expenses not covered by your medical insurance.

Slip and Fall

You can be entitled to compensation if you undergo harm in a slip and fall incident. Depending upon the circumstances of your fall, your entitlement to compensation can comprise loss of income and loss of ability to earn income, "general damages," home maintenance and housekeeping expenses, and health care costs over and above those covered under your medical insurance. If the person causing the injury has an insurance policy which can be accessed on your behalf, it is important that legal assistance is sought early to prevent limitation period issues.

There are many kinds of injury which can happen as a result of other's neglect, like assault, wrongful death, and injury sustained on premises owned by others. The losses which victims experience can effect their lives and deserve compensation.
