

Law Offices in Richmond

Law Offices in Richmond - Entertainment, Media & Sports law monitors activities within the broadcasting and telecommunication trades. Our firm acts for the interests of clients before commissions and tribunals making use of the multidisciplinary approach demanded by this complex area of law.

Our clientele includes individuals like entertainers, professional athletes and artists. We provide them with services connected to tax planning, contract negotiation; intellectual property protection and dispute settlement.

We work directly along with experts within our Corporate/Commercial, Corporate Finance, Technology & Communications and Tax Groups in order to carry out and structure financing arrangements. Our clients consist of producers of motion pictures, theatrical works and television programs. We likewise represent and advise groups which are in the process of acquiring or expanding cable systems and telecommunication networks.