

Best Divorce Lawyer in Richmond

Best Divorce Lawyer in Richmond - There are some things that you should consider when planning your estate beyond only your last will and testament. Things to think about consist of selecting the beneficiaries of your life insurance benefits, deferring and reducing taxes, homes, pension plans, businesses, and practices. Our office is experienced in a variety of matters regarding wills and estates and is capable of giving valuable and efficient estate planning suggestion.

Included in the more comprehensive estate plans are the preparations for future illness since this can be a rather difficult matter. Our veteran lawyers gives suggestion to our clients in the preparation of their Personal Directive, Dependent Adult Application and Enduring Power of Attorney.

Some of the matters wherein we are experienced include charitable giving as well as the succession of family businesses. Several of our lawyers often attend lectures and publish articles associated to estate planning.

Challenging Wills, Dependents Relief Act Applications, matrimonial property issues, Intestate Succession Act issues, same sex relationships and adult interdependent relationships are all probate and estate litigation matters in which we specialize.