

Richmond Employment Lawyer

Richmond Employment Lawyer - Our company specializes in Labour and Employment Law, working in order to advise and represent clients in both the private and public sectors before administrative tribunals, and before all levels of the courts in issues of labour litigation. We assist our clients in the negotiation and drafting of collective agreements and participate in the drafting of employment agreements.

We have extensive skill in the several employment laws and regulations, consisting of employment rights and benefits, wrongful dismissal, sexual harassment, accommodation of disabilities, safety and health standards and human rights. Our members work together with our clients throughout the procedure of dispute resolution, and by partaking in negotiation, arbitration, mediation and conciliation.