

Law Firms in Richmond

Law Firms in Richmond - The goal of Our Tax Group is to be able to protect our clients' assets through structuring of business transactions, international and domestic tax planning, and litigating tax disagreements. Our lawyers are highly regarded on a national and international basis for their innovations in international and domestic tax planning. We are recognized for the creative use of corporations, trusts, joint ventures, partnerships and other vehicles. Our Tax Team is often requested by various law offices and accounting offices seeking our specialized knowledge for their clients.

We can help our clients concerning the benefits of all types' transactions and our lawyers work along with our firm's Corporate/Commercial and Corporate Finance Teams. This enables us to produce the most favorable tax consequences possible through business arrangements, transactions and strategies.

We have built exceptional relations along with the taxation agencies, that allows us to successfully act for clients promoting legislative change, needing advance tax rulings, and disputing and negotiating the settlement of tax reassessments. In conditions where tax disputes cannot be settled, our Tax Group litigators represent clients before all levels of the courts.
